Dear Collector Friends of the Fiscal Philately,

From May 9 to 11, the "Arbeitsgemeinschaft Fiskalphilatelie im BDPH e.V." in cooperation with the International Stamp Fair Essen and the FIP Revenue Commission wants to hold the first "Salon for Fiscal Philately" in German.

For this exhibition, the organizer of the fair will provide us with an exhibition area where we would like to present 200 frames of exhibits of worldwide Revenue Philately to visitors of the fair and of course to interested Fiscal Philatelists.

With this bulletin, we would like to inspire you to participate in the exhibition in order to show together the diversity of our hobby to the philatelic world. In addition to this salon, guided city tours, lectures and talks as well as opportunities for trading are planned. Here, however, we are also completely dependent on the registrations and feedback in order to provide the best possible location and space.

In the exhibit, everything of fiscal material can be shown - prescriptions on sheet sizes, contents, structure will not made - the motto is: "Build your fiscal collection according on your own criteria and show them in the salon". The only requirement for the construction of your exhibit is that the exhibition frames have a size of 1 square meter. We will also provide showcases and options for displaying 3D objects.

In addition to the fiscal material, the exhibit may also be supplemented with non-philatelic material (regulations, photographs, maps, heraldic, etc.), which the exhibitor considers helpful in enriching the content of his exhibit and, above all, in explaining it.

This salon takes place without any evaluation in order to limit the creativity of the exhibitor. In addition, it is planned that a team of experienced Jurors will provide tips and recommendations for later participation in competitive exhibitions. New ideas and approaches are presented to the BDPH and the FIP. This gives the opportunity to stimulate improvements to the exhibition regulations and assessment guidelines. An unofficial evaluation sheet may be asked for by the exhibitor.

The ArGe Fiskalphilatelie e.V. celebrates this year its 30th society anniversary and the first planning took place in 2017. With the support of the BDPH and the FIP this event can now be realized and we are happy to show our hobby to the broad public. "Social and Open philately" are modern slogans in postal philately, how well these suit the revenue material! In Thematic philately, fiscal material belongs to "border line material" and so far is hardly accepted. But illustrations, usages and documents offer an incredible range of thematic treatments.

By help of your participation we will be able to show outstanding studies of traditional revenue exhibits and we look forward to see a variety of new innovative approaches. Your creativity as an exhibitor will have no limitations.

Ralph Ebner, RNCP, FRPSL, chairman FIP revenue bureau

Terms of the Exhibition

1. Anyone who has a collection of tax, fee, duty or revenue stamps or any other non-postal stamps and has designed and built them according to his / her criteria can exhibit.

Supporting Programm

We already have commitments from international guests and will offer an extensive supporting program.

Hotel recommendations, conference rooms, lectures and program items are available according to the registrations in a suitable scope. After your registration you will receive further details.

The city of Essen and the Ruhr area offer many opportunities for the philatelist as well as for his company. Essen was the capital of culture a few years ago and, in addition to the UNESCO World Heritage Site Zollverein colliery, the Villa Hügel, the Gruga-Park, the Folkwang-Museum as well as it has numerous theaters and further museums to offer.
